CIVILIANS PLAN TO STUDY WAR

Business and Professional Men of New York Signify Intention to Spend One Month of Summer

NEW YORK, June 30.—More than two hundred business and professional men of New York have signified their intention of taking a month's military training this summer in a government instruction camp at Plattsburgh, N. Y. The promoters of the plan said today that the total would reach 1,000 men when the camp passed to the command of regular army officers. This plan is the result of an informal gathering at the Harvard club a few weeks ago when General Leonard Wood was the guest of honor. General Wood's speech, emphasizing the importance of military training for civilians started the movement. Instructions were sent to more than 15,000 bankers, lawyers, doctors, brokers, clergymen and other business and professional men in and near New York. The response has exceeded expectations.

It was said today that the movement was spreading to other states and that prospects that similar camps would be organized this summer in Pennsylvania, Massachusetts and Maryland, and possibly in Illinois.

The unanimous approval of the world's leading musicians is worth of YOUR consideration when purchasing a Piano.

Mid-Summer Trimmed Hats at $5

Yes, mid-summer millinery, quite different from that of the early season, very distinctive and beautiful. The illustration shows some of the styles—white, white and black and the favorite colors, in milan and leghorn braids, so appropriate for warm weather, in models for street, garden party, exposition and summer resort wear. Difficult to catch their beauty and imprison it in the types for you to release in reading. Suppose you come down to see them—there's a window full—with dozens of others on the second floor. At $5 they matchless values—matchless.

At the Theatres

THE FOLLY

Manager Powell is elated over the acquisition of a big picture for the Fourth of July crowds. "The Hypocrites," a big four-reel feature has been shown here before and created wide comment. The Folly will show the same picture next Sunday and Monday.

Gabriel, an ascetic monk of olden time, labors to perfect an image of Truth, consecrating himself with fasting and prayer, and keeping his work a secret from his fellow monks, not even the abbot knowing the nature of the task until the statue is unveiled. The unveiling is made a fête day, but when the covering is pulled aside and the people see a figure of Truth, naked they are horrified, and with one accord and led by the abbot, they rush upon Gabriel and kill him. Only two beside Gabriel can look upon Truth without flinching a little child and the woman who loves him. A Magdalen looks upon the statue and falls prostrate. The woman who loves him covers him with her veil, turning from white to black as she bends over him.

Courtesy Foote gives a striking impersonation of Gabriel, and Margaret Edwards makes a very beautiful vision of Truth.

THE LYRIC

The Finlay orchestra and the big movie program offered at the Lyric are a combination hard to equal in interest. On the program beginning Thursday is another of the formidable Ham comedies.

The mood for holding down a job temporarily possesses Ham and Bud. Applying in a moving concern, the adventurers secure positions. The Duponts decide to move to their summer home. Ham and Bud are ordered to transport the Dupont household effects.

By this time Ham's and Bud's ambitions have died down somewhat. They languidly pile the furniture aboard the motor truck and set out for the country. After losing a few pieces of furniture on the way, the two spy a circus. Deserting the van, Ham and Bud try to take in the show.

THE EMPRESS

Jesse L. Lasky's production of "The Wild Goose Chase," founded on the famous romantic comedy of the same name by Wm. C. DeMille, will be the offering Thursday at the Empress with Ina Claire as the star. This is the first time that Miss Claire has ever appeared in photodrama, and the affair is therefore one of most unusual interest to high grade photoplay audiences everywhere. The management promises that they will not be disappointed.

Many of the most picturesque scenes in "The Wild Goose Chase" are to be found in the episodes while the young lovers—Bob and Betty—are both members of a typical barnstorming theatrical company which becomes hopelessly stranded.

AUDITORIUM

Lovers of dancing, strangers in the city, rapidly are becoming acquainted with the Auditorium semi-stripte, movie theater and dance pavilion. The dancing under inverted lights which make the hall just dark enough to show the movies clearly adds an unusual and fascinating touch to the big hall. The popular eight-piece orchestra also is one of the great drawing cards, many patrons spending an evening at the Auditorium mainly to hear the music. On tonight's movie program are the following feature comic films: "Andy Falls in Love," and "Two Pop Up Fables."

COLCORD GARDEN

"The Star of Genus" is the title of a three-reel feature appearing at the Colcord garden Thursday. A one-reel comedy follows. During the progress of the pictures the Favorite Sextette will offer new ballads and songs.

5^C FOLLY

Now, most everyone knows who go to shows that the show is at the Folly. From a glance at the totals showing attendance at the folly during the past week every theatergoer in Oklahoma City was there. So everyone ought to know about the big show.

VAUDEVILLE

It is deemed advisable to mention that new vaudeville gins Thursday. Heading the offering are the Musical Knel singers, whistler and violinists. This is not a minstrel show as one might judge from the name. Martin and Florence, comedians, or near comedians as Folly audiences may determine, also billed. Advance notices assure the management they great conspirators against the blues.

PICTURE

Two acts of vaudeville and not less than six reels of picture—Universal first run program and Mutual comedies head by the famous Keystone Stup.

It's a big nickel's worth. One need have no scruples about taking a big party for they will be entertained. The picture can get no more anywhere in town for his money than democrat gets at the Folly.

DECKER ON TIPPING

Even Hotel Men Themselves Cannot Entirely Evade Handling "The Help" An Occasional Extra Fee

When Adolph Decker changed his trousers at the Lee-Huckins hotel yesterday, for Mr. Decker has many pairs of trousers, and always believes in presenting a neat and immaculate appearance to his guests, he took a dime from his pocket and placed it on the table and forgot about it. After the colored chambermaid had cleaned his room, he found a note under the dime, on which was written, "Did you leave this far me?"

Mr. Decker immediately saw the point, and added below the scrawl, "I don't see how I can say no." The dime was gone when he next went to the room. "Which goes to prove," says the Lee-Huckins philosopher, "what I have always maintained, namely that the dumbest woman is smarter than the smartest man."

Filled Glass of Water Tests Special Steel Car Which Will Carry Liberty Bell to Exposition

PHILADELPHIA, June 30.—Preliminary tests of the specially built steel flat car on which the Liberty bell will be carried to the California exposition was completed today. A glass filled with water was placed on the floor of the car and not a drop was spilled as the car was hauled at a rate of 35 miles an hour over a network of switches. An electrical generator operated by the car's axels will charge the batteries for the hundreds of incandescent lamps with which the bell will be illuminated during nights on the journey.
